Nameaholics Anonymous

The Idiot's Guide to Corporate Fiction

> "Hi, I'm [what you think is "your" legal name], and I'm a recovering name-a-holic."

We cling to the very thing that is killing us physically and spiritually. The LEGAL NAME controls everything, yet we embrace it willingly. Truth just is—alignment begins with admission.

Step 1: The Admission of Ownership

Powerless over our Fictional Friend

The Admission

We admitted we were powerless over our LEGAL NAME because we willingly handed it all over.

The Reality

The Legal Name does all the heavy lifting and the dying. We're just passengers in our own fiction.

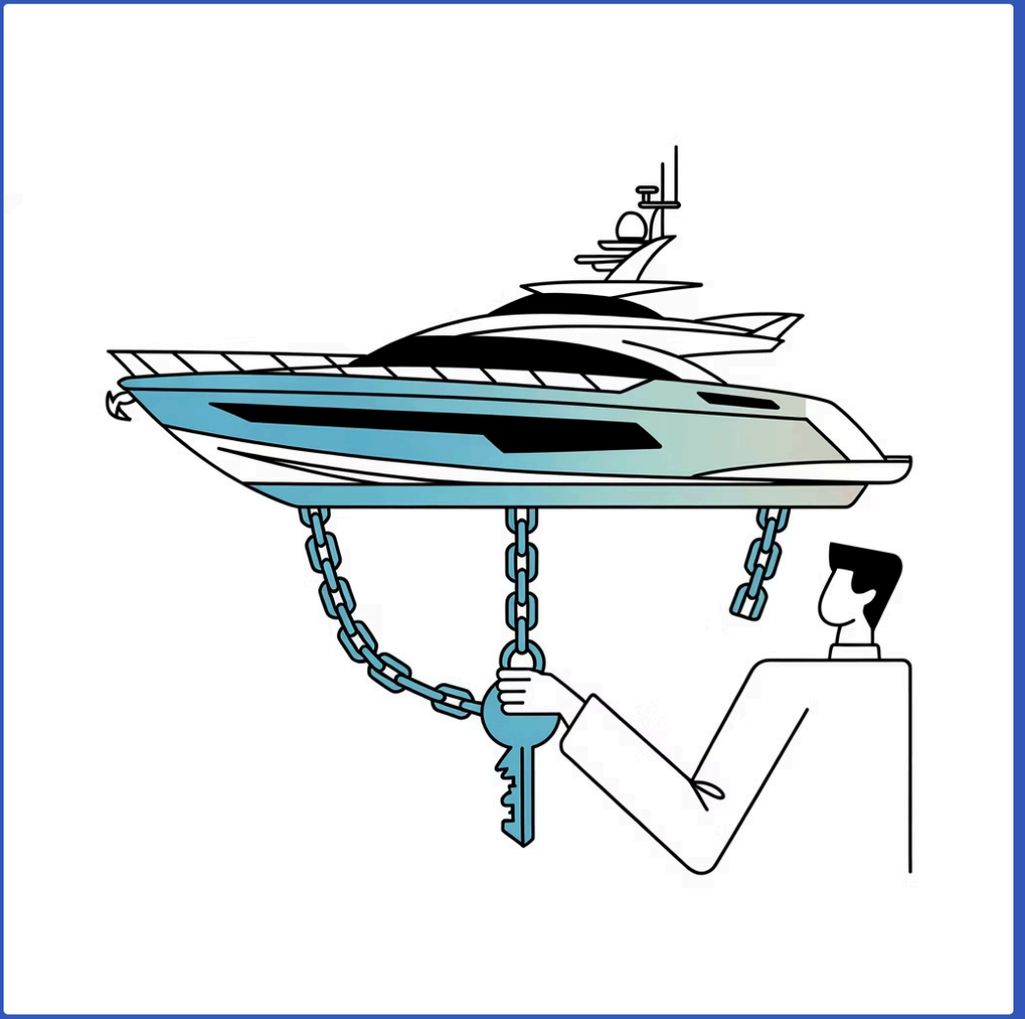
My Yacht, My House, My Masters

Everything is a Corporate Rental

The Illusion of Ownership

Everything we think we own was bought through a LEGAL NAME. The LEGAL NAME is legally owned by the owners of the system.

We own nothing. Congratulations on your voluntary servitude!



The Registration Ritual

Full Consent, All Day, Every Day

The Happy Trade

We happily and fully consented to this trade upon all REGISTRATIONS. Every signature, every form, every document.

The Legal Truth

There isn't a legal thing you can do about it. You signed the contract willingly.

The Deepest Truth: The Spell

Phonics is a Trap, Not a Tool (until you break the spells and are able to see through the deceptions)

> The use of the LEGAL NAME is a truth so simple yet so spellbinding that it controls our very soul. Sound matters more than spelling.

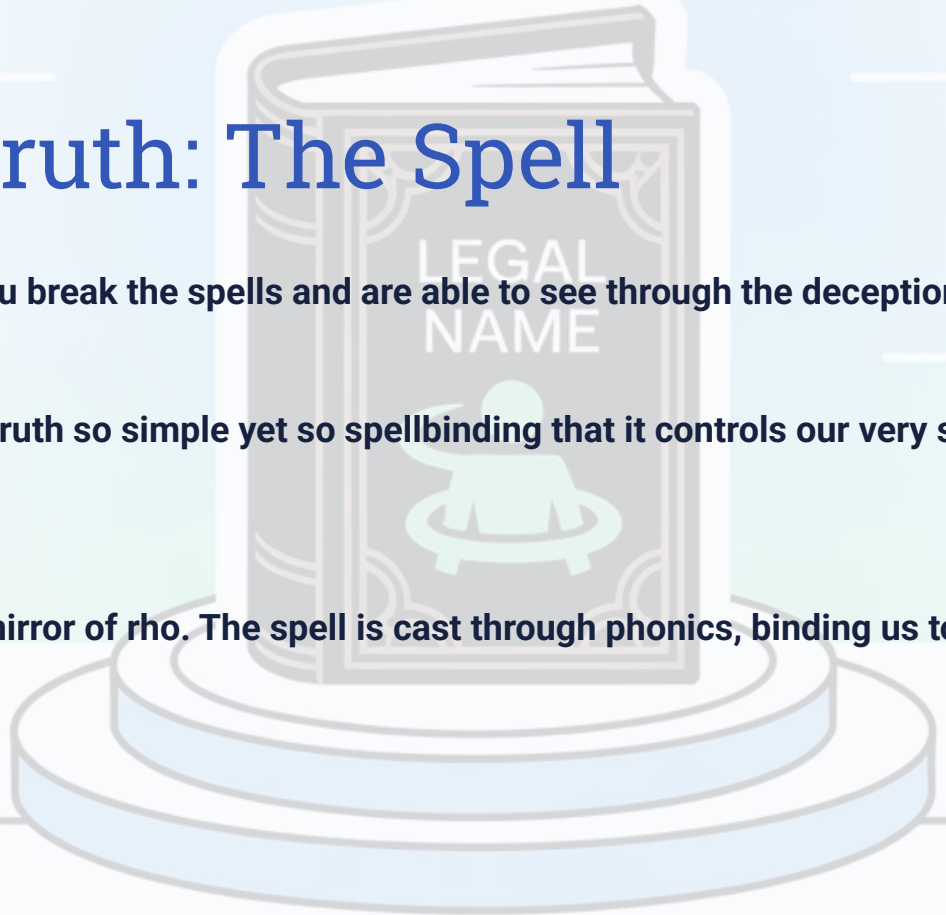
The letters P, H, and R form the hex mirror of rho. The spell is cast through phonics, binding us to corporate fiction through sound itself.



The Ego Shield

Denial is Not a River in Babylon

The Defense Mechanism

When confronted, the Nameaholic's first defense is their opinion and ego. They armor themselves with denial and justification.

The Ultimate Reality

Any and all truth never requires anyone's belief, merely the acceptance or denial of it. Truth just is.

The Emotion-Bomb

Screaming to the Dead Whore Mother

1

Justify

The Nameaholic constantly justifies their attachment to the LEGAL NAME fiction.

2

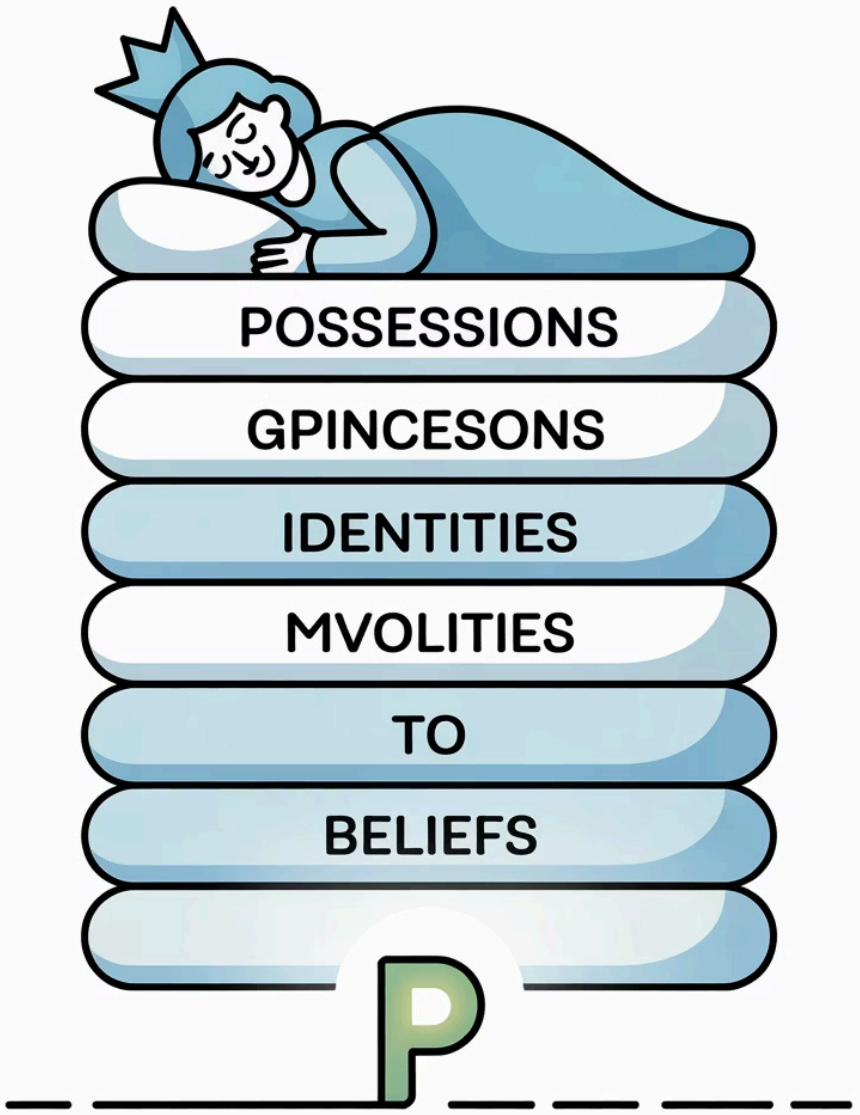
Defend

They defend the very system that enslaves them with emotional outbursts.

3

Run to Babylon

They run off screaming to their dead whore mother called Babylon or commerce.



The Princess and the P

Sleep on the Lie, or Remove the Hex

The Discomfort

The Nameaholic couldn't be comfortable until the P, the hex mirror of rho, was removed from beneath all their illusions.

The Solution

It's the lie of the LEGAL NAME you choose to keep that causes the disturbance. Remove it and find peace. It's as simple as a CHANGE OF MIND.

The Simple, Nice Fix

No Legal Name in the Land of Commerce

The Lie

LEGAL NAME leads to a dead end in corporate fiction.

The Alignment

NO LEGAL NAME in the land of commerce. This is alignment, not a fight.

The Choice

It's a lie I could not stand in once my choice to stand in truth was made.

The Grand Exit

Recovery: Just Be Nice, and KNOW that YOU are NOT A LEGAL NAME!

READ THE #BCCRSS
